

“An animal’s eyes have the power to speak a great language.” Martin Buber

Hello to Fall, to Halloween, harvest times and leaf peeping! My Facebook Live “Animal Talk” session will address “What to expect when you talk to your pet” on Thursday, Oct 16, 7PM: <https://www.facebook.com/TheHeartofConversation/>

EVENTS AND MY NEWS FLASHES

My online Beginning Animal Communications class “Fur Folk Talk” ...will be starting Oct. 29.

Excited to offer YOU the process of actually talking with your pet! NO experience needed...find out what they are telling you AND listen to that deeper “you” that is always talking too. Find great joy, peace of mind, and new well-being, for both you and your pet. There will be 9 Zoom meetings where the “basics” will be covered in an easy, and fun manner. This class will have a very special 80% discount (since it is my first online class)! Go to: www.furfolktalk.com to find out more and email me at: paula@animalhearttalk.com with questions or chat about the course.

My cats Makana & Rumi will be “teaching” too...and so will your fur folks. Aha moments galore with support of like-minded folks that will bring you into clarity and closer connection to the nature around you and your pets.

WHERE?

All of my time has been spent on forming the best online class I can for beginning animal communications. After 20 plus years of being an official Fur Talk person, and I tell you, it is a process of deep learnings. My passion is to bring you into “talking”, and feeling, the magical talk of fur folks in a quick and easy manner. Want to get you to experience my joys and confidence in doing this work and have some fun too! I have been interviewed by CBS, The Discovery Channel, Martha Stewart Talk Radio, and many more...taught classes all over the world (including Finland), and I always am amazed with the magical healing of Fur Folk Talk!

“Hi, I’m Mak the cat...one of your teachers!!!”

WHO, HOW, AND WHAT?

Treats or Treats time!

No “tricks” from me...love the autumn time and “leaf peeping”. The history of Halloween began with the Celts, called Samhain...dating back 2,000 years ago.

Celtic “new year” was Nov 1, and the night of Oct 31 was spent in feasts, bonfires, and in respect for those that have passed. Here’s some details from the History site: https://www.history.com/topics/halloween/history-of-halloween#section_1 Time to slow down, experience nature with the harvest of pumpkins and enjoy the eye candy of falling yellow, red, and orange leaves. All the animals are busy doing their “jobs” with storing food, migrating, and preparing for the short days of winter in this Northern Hemisphere!
